HOMELESSNESS IN TASMANIA

Homelessness affects people of all ages, and in all regions of Tasmania. The need to reduce and eliminate homelessness in Tasmania has never been more urgent.

People can become homeless for many reasons including loss of income or employment; the lack of affordable housing; family breakdown and domestic violence; transition from care or custody; and mental health, gambling or substance issues.

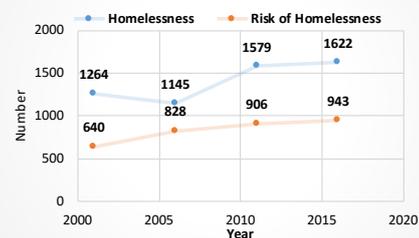

For many people homelessness is temporary, and they can quickly recover and stabilise their situation. For others, finding and maintaining a safe affordable home is extremely difficult, and homelessness lasts much too long.

In March 2021, there were 338 Tasmanians without any housing at all, but less than one in ten people experiencing homelessness are sleeping rough. Most homelessness is hidden from view – people are staying temporarily with others (couch surfing); in precarious and substandard accommodation; in emergency shelters; or in overcrowded dwellings, doubled up families, cars and tents.

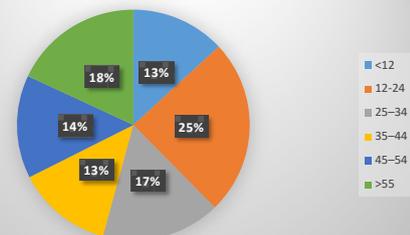

More than 120,000 Tasmanians live below the poverty line. As housing costs rise, it is more difficult for Tasmanians earning low and moderate incomes to find affordable housing. The chronic shortage of affordable rental housing in Tasmania is a major cause of homelessness and stops people finding pathways out of homelessness.

HOMELESSNESS SUPPORT IN TASMANIA

A network of emergency shelters, specialist homelessness services and support services across Tasmania assist people experiencing homelessness and who are at risk of homelessness.

Social housing and crisis accommodation play a critical role in housing people experiencing homelessness. Support services help people address issues that can lead to homelessness.

Support includes help to find emergency and long term housing; helping with issues like domestic violence; substance use; gambling; mental illness; counselling and legal advice; life skills; education and employment; and help with stabilising and maintaining existing tenancies.

Housing and homelessness support services can be accessed through Tasmania's Housing Connect service.

WHAT IS NEEDED TO END HOMELESSNESS IN TASMANIA?

Homelessness will end when everyone has access to appropriate, affordable and secure housing, along with the support needed to help people stay housed. Housing ends homelessness.

Shelter Tas calls for national and state level actions, including:

- A National Affordable Housing Strategy to increase the supply of affordable and social housing
- Strengthening the Tasmanian Affordable Housing Strategy and Action Plans with a target of 10% of all dwellings to be social and affordable housing
- Increased investment in Tasmania's homelessness and crisis accommodation support
- Increased resources to ensure housing and support for Tasmania's young people at risk
- Raising the rates of government income support for low income households
- Making affordable housing a priority in Tasmania's planning system

The Shelter Tas vision is for affordable, appropriate, safe and secure housing for all Tasmanians and an end to homelessness.
